

Training Resolution - Feedback

24 July 2025

Resolution Taken - 17 July 2024 Event

The RMF is tasked with running a dedicated session dealing with the training related issues currently hampering the performance of the industry. It needs to consider the issues related to the training of road authorities and service providers.

Training Event – 4 December 2024

- The extensions of the current CETA Roadworker Qualification
 - Statement 1 – Mr Gawie Burger, Statement 2 – Mr Morne Windvogel
- Specific and Essential Skills:– Statement 3 (20 minutes) – Dr Paul Nordengen
- Full Qualifications: - Statement 4 (20 minutes) – Mr Rinus van Raaij
 - Provision for training materials for accreditation, evaluation process for training materials
 - Role of industry

Training Event – Statement 1

Current Roadworker qualifications level 2 - 3 were NOT extended by CETA which cause a “vacuum” as currently no accredited programmes are available to the industry.

Training Event – Statement 1

TRANSITION FROM SETA'S TO QCTO (QUALITY COUNCIL FOR TRADES AND OCCUPATIONS)

- All qualifications registered with SETA's last date of registration was 30 June 2024
- All SETA's had to submit qualifications to the Minister for extension
- In the case of the CETA 19 qualifications were extended
- How it was decided on these qualifications I cannot answer - I notice CETA is present maybe they can inform us

QUALIFICATIONS NOT EXTENDED

Most needed qualifications for Road Related training

- National Certificate: Construction Roadworks – NQF 2

- National Certificate: Construction Roadworks – NQF 3

- National Certificate Construction – NQF 2

Training Event – Statement 2

What is SANRAL, Public Works, etc viewpoint on non-accredited training on their projects as the QCTO qualification will take another 6 – 8 months to be registered and operational.

Training Event – Statement 3

In the interim what about specific and essential skills?
When can the industry expect a shift toward the development of skills programmes and part qualifications?

The occupational qualification programmes are intensive, time-consuming, and generally at higher NQF levels. It is therefore crucial to develop shorter courses or programmes focused on the specific skills that individuals need to perform essential tasks.

Training Event – Statement 4

Qualification development and registration processes on going and there are various uncertainties, concerns, and questions regarding the training material:

- During the accreditation process, training providers will be required to submit training material aligned in both content and structure with the curriculum of each specific qualification for evaluation and approval by the QCTO, as part of the provider accreditation process. This is a costly and time-consuming process, and will each training provider be responsible for developing their own material?
- Does the QCTO have enough subject matter experts to evaluate training material during the accreditation process, and is this sustainable?
- What role should industry play in this process?

Some Context to the Situation.....

Year	Milestone
2008	The National Qualifications Framework Act (No. 67 of 2008) passed and created three Quality Councils, Umalusi, CHE, QCTO .
2010	QCTO established as the statutory body for occupational qualifications under the NQF.
2013	QCTO commences to develop and register occupational qualifications to replace outdated SETA unit standard-based qualifications (legacy qualifications).
2015–2020	QCTO accredits providers and starts to implement new curricula.
2021 onward	DHET issues directives that legacy qualifications will be phased out . Initial deadline of June 2023 (later extended to 30 June 2027 for final enrolments).

Some Context to the Situation.....

SETAs are phasing out their role in quality assurance, shifting focus to planning and funding.

QCTO becomes the sole authority for qualification development and quality assurance of occupational training.

Responsibility	SETA (Current/Phasing Out)	QCTO (Growing Role)
Legacy qualifications	Yes	No
Occupational qualifications	No	Yes
Short skills programmes	Yes (currently)	Yes (eventually)
Part qualifications	No	Yes
Accreditation of training providers	Yes (legacy)	Yes (QCTO-aligned)
Certification	Yes (legacy)	Yes (occupational qualifications)

Outcome

- Number of actions agreed
 - SANRAL and Master Builders SA to follow up within their points of contact with the CETA and QCTO. Follow ups made.
 - RMF to send letters on outcomes of workshop – outlining the issues and the concerns raised to CETA and QCTO. Sent out 7th March.
